

Rechargeable batteries are causing fires

Keep all batteries out of trash and recycling

Rechargeable batteries containing metals such as lithium and nickel, can spark and explode when damaged. Fires in garbage trucks and processing facilities are on the rise. Help protect our employees, haulers, property, and community.

Rechargeable batteries are found in many common household items:

Power Tools • Toys • Cellphones • Remote Controls • Electric Toothbrushes

SafeBatteryDisposal.com

